DETAILED ACTION

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1, 2 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 12-15 of copending Application No. 10/720,537.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both applications claim casting a dope on a support, and separates the film from the support or die lip end using force. Although, the '537 does not recite using specific force, the '537 applicant recites a method of stripping the film from the support, and obviously the stripping would be broad enough to encompass using force to remove the film from the support or the die lip end as claimed.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

3. Claims 1, 2 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 18, 22, 25 and 27 of copending Application No. 10/657,090. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both applications claim casting and separating a dope from a support or die lip end, but in the '090 application, the step of removing the dope from the support or die lip ends is accomplished by stripping or separating and to specify using a specific force for removing the dope would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in art where stripping has been generally taught.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Topolkareb et al. teach a method of casting a film using temperatures lower than zero degrees centigrade, but does not teach the dope with the polymer and solvent as claimed.
